

Cahors

The Vineyards of the “High Country” of the South West are among the oldest vineyards of France and showed an incredible diversity of grapes. The Vineyard of Cahors is probably the most ancient, as it was originated before the arrival of the Romans in Gaulle. The Pope of Avignon, John XXII, called on winemakers of Cahors to create the “Chateauneuf du Pape” vineyards, hence a certain similarity in the wines. Nearly totally destroyed by the fierce frost of 1956, the vines are now represented by a majority of Malbec, with some Merlot and Tannat.

The wines of Cahors are powerful and generous, strong in color and in personality, these wines will present a strong appeal to the American palate.

Le Clos Troteligotte

An Organic Farm in the Region of Cahors, in the Lot et Garonne.

The Rybinski family runs a completely self sustained agricultural farm complex, with live stock, cereals, orchard, and 10 Hectares of organic vines. The farm is a model of craftsmanship and efficiency. It was awarded with the highest distinctions and certifications of quality of the Region.

Old World Wines Inc., 3224 Bay Estates Drive, Miramar Beach, FL 32550 — Tel: (850) 225-0663—Fax: (850) 267-3976
E-mail: info@oldworldwinesinc.com—www.oldworldwinesinc.com